

How do I transfer plugin licenses to another computer?

*Attention! The following procedure is for moving offline plugin licenses

User can release and transfer each plugin license to another computer once every 3 months. This option was created in case you need to replace hardware or format your computer. In such a situation, you do not lose your licenses, because you can transfer them.

To transfer a plugin, you should first release its license from the computer to which it is assigned. To do this, go to www.store.bimvision.eu and log in to your account.

After logging in, go to the My licenses tab.

In the table you will see your licenses listed. For each of them, you will see information about the plugin name, license number and name of the computer to which it is assigned. In addition, a Release button is available for each license.

<input type="checkbox"/>	IFC Edit (ifc_edit.dll)	OFFLINE- [REDACTED]		Not activated

* The Release option must be active; otherwise the user will not be able to release the license. If the Release button is inactive (gray), it means that it has been used in the last 3 months. In this case, please contact us.

You can release either one plugin license or several at a time.

1/ If you want to release 1 license, you can simply press the Release button next to the license number of the plugin that you want to transfer. The Release option has to be active.

2/ If you want to release several plugin licenses, mark the check boxes next to the selected license numbers and then press the Release selected button underneath.
